

INSPECTION PROCESS

All consignors put their items directly onto the sales floor after being checked in. Inspection will take place after consignor drop-off. During inspection, unacceptable items will be pulled from the sales floor. Consignors will be charged .50 for any item pulled from the floor. Top reasons that items are rejected at our sale:

- Stained clothing
- Scuffed shoes (all shoes must look like new)
- Frayed pant legs
- Missing buttons and zippers that don't work
- Clothing and shoes that are not seasonally appropriate (see guidelines here)
- Recalled items
- Clothing priced less than $3.00
- Bringing items to the event that we do not accept (e.g. VHS tapes, stuffed animals)
- Items that are damaged or have missing pieces
- Items that are out of style or dated
- Items that are significantly overpriced

Consignors will not be charged if it is determined that an item was pulled due to something outside of their control (e.g. item fell on floor during the sale and became dirty).

Please know that we do not want to charge consignors for unacceptable items. If you have a question about what we accept please reach out to us at any time prior to the sale.
